

Hearts Just Beat

Hayden

Do you want to know my game
I don't really have one I'm just passing this way
Do you want to know my name
Its just one more thing you might learn to hate one day
Making every body see
I was on the side of love, we were meant to be
And I'm walking with the ones whose hearts just beat
I'll never forget your face, when your eyes told me what your lips could not say
And now she just walked away
Dragging y heart through the streets back to her place
Making every body see
I was on the side of love
we were meant to be
But now I am one of those whose hearts just beat(chorus)
I don't need to blame love
But I guess I do sort of
Now I don't want to feel love
I don't want to be loved
I don't mean to blame love
But I guess I do sort of (musical)Chorus repeats
