Quitter

Edgewater

So disappointed, always a step behind
Can't you hear all of the noises
Scraping the back of my mind?
Did you realize that I so despise
All those times I've wasted counting on you?
Yeah, I'm so sick of being used
Why can't you see, I'm falling apart
Why are you walking from me?
Why can't you say it, the silence is jaded
So shut your mouth, 'cause I'm sick of it
The time has come just to call it quits
And walk away, just let me be
Such an insult, such a traitor
What defines the name that you cater
Such a curse, such a quitter
All I hear is the words that you shattered
Did you realize that I so despise
All those times I've wasted counting on you?
Yeah, fuck you, I'm so sick of being used

Why can't you see, I'm falling apart
Why are you walking from me?
Why can't you say it, the silence is jaded
So shut your mouth 'cause I'm sick of it
The time has come just to call it quits
And walk away, just let me be
Walk away
So disappointed, as you walk away, as you walk away
Dead and avoided, as you slip away, and you kneel and pray
Walk away
Why can't you see, I'm falling apart
Why are you walking from me?
Why can't you say it, the silence is jaded
So shut your mouth, 'cause I'm sick of it
The time has come just to call it quits
And walk away, just let me be
