

Coulda Been

Kimberley Locke

its hard to belive we werent meant to be and all good things and eventually but here i walking away and your down on your knees beagin me please baby stay well no can do cuase boy you werent true the only rule there is no exeption to threes a crowd so that dosent leave you now thats what you get for leaving now remember (chorus) could of right could have been cool could of been the best thing sience high school could of been wild could of been free u could of been everything to me could of been real could of been hot could of been hot could of been the one who hit my spot but your not and all u got is some thin that could of been x2) i used to think i couldnt live without us together but boy look at me now i got my hopes all my life and all my dreams so as you wave goodbye to just remember chours

some day u see me walkin down the street lookin confudet and complete wonder if u made a mistake throw it away to soon i wave and blow you a kiss and say its good runnin into u like this how ru doin how many kids do ever look back and wish that you cold turn turn back time and make me change my mind but you didnt so lets get on and let go almost thought it cause you know so remember remember so remember chorus x2 until fade

Lyrics submitted by LEXII.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>