My First Stereo

Fm Static

Somethin' tells me, I'll never be close to another like you
Helped me through the things that we all go through
You make every song sound better, taught me how to write a letter
I think everyone should get along like me, and my first stereo
And you used to sing me to sleep
And always stood behind me
Everyone wants, everyone needs
Everyone hurts, sometimes like me
It never rejects me, always accepts me
Nothing can compete with my first stereo
Green light, outta my way, seems like just yesterday
That you played me my very first mix tape
Gave me the courage to say what I wanted to say
When it never comes out that way, oops, I'm in trouble again
Should've listened to them, back to my room
And then we're safe now, feels like when we were ten
In my room listenin', to some Michael Jackson
Relaxin'
And you used to sing me to sleep
And always stood behind me
You saw me off when I had to go
My first true love was my first stereo
Everyone wants, everyone needs
Everyone hurts, sometimes like me
It never rejects me, always accepts me
Nothing can compete with my first stereo
Everyone wants, everyone needs
Nobody's perfect just like me
Into the stereo is the place I go
I wonder what's playin' next on the radio?
Somethin' tells me I'll never be close to another like you
Helped me through the things that we all go through
Everyone wants, everyone needs
Everyone hurts, sometimes like me
It never rejects me, always accepts me
Nothing can compete with my first stereo
Everyone wants, everyone needs
Nobody's perfect just like me
Into the stereo is the place I go

I wonder what's playin' next on the radio?
