It Takes Two

Giant

Oh, here I am, looking back again
At the road that led to you
Oh, the time is alright, tryin' to save myself
From looking out at youI walked alone, while you were waiting
But somehow you saw through me
And now I'm standing at your door
You're the only one I needIt takes two, two hearts that beat together
To make it feel like one
Body and soul surrender, when love has just begun
It takes two, it takes twoI've been blinded by this fear inside
That love is just a game
You distract yourself with someone else
And both havin' traveled in painBow now, I see the road I've taken
Will lead me to nothing more
Than empty rooms without your love
Girl, I'm standing at your doorIt takes two, two hearts that beat together
To make it feel like one
Body and soul surrender, when love has just begun
It takes two, it takes two, ohI walked alone while you were waiting
I knew where I'm wanting to be
So now, I'm standing at your door
You're the only one I needIt takes two, two hearts that beat together
To make it feel like one
Oh, one life with you, one life with you, ohIt takes two, two hearts that beat together
To make it feel like one
Body and soul surrender, when love has just begun
It takes two, it takes two
