

Melting in My Icebox

Bronze Radio Return

You've got a feeling, it's in a moment
Want to keep it but it's always fleeting
Cause when I'm feeling with the present, it never lasts long and I can never keep it
I dig my fingers in, try to keep my eye on it
I disappear and get it, when I blink it vanishes
Wanna stop the drops, dripping from a cold cone
Before I can finish I'm a puddle on a cold stone. It's melting in my icebox
It's leaking all my time
It's melting in my icebox
Why can't I keep a moment frozen? Everything's surrounding me, I watch a moment turn into a memory
Like a name on the marquee, it comes down when you leave
Soak it up, it's only temporary. It's melting in my icebox
It's leaking all my time
It's melting in my icebox
Why can't I keep a moment frozen?
Why can't I keep a moment frozen? Mixing ice cubes, turning into water
Wanna keep it, but it's getting harder
Wanna keep it, but it's getting harder
Mixing ice cubes, turning into water It's melting in my icebox
It's leaking all my time
It's melting in my icebox
Why can't I keep a moment frozen? Melting in my icebox (turning into water)
Melting in my icebox (turning into water)
It's melting in my icebox (turning into water)
It's melting in my icebox, why can't I keep a moment frozen?

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlyrics.com/>