Djinn

Ramin Djawadi

In the idle light of a fading day
Theres a past I lost
One I gave away
One I used to knowCaught in the dust
Of a desert plain
Waiting for
The rains to fallIts something that I feel, rain falls
Something that I feel when rain falls
More than a world away
Its always here insideIn all that has overgrown
Almost underground
Could never be all erased
Only lost and foundOne I left behind
Caught in the dust of a desert plain
Waiting for
The rains to comeIts something that I feel, rain falls
Something that I feel when rain falls
More than a world away
Its always here inside
