

Everybody Be Dancin'

Starbuck

I never won for losing
But it ceased to be amusing when you told me
That ev'ry night you're shining bright

And the big apple band a callin' out your name And what do you mean, the Rolling Stones ain't nothing to you?

'Cause they ain't got the beat right

I'm trying to tell you something

But you're gonna jump around crazy half the night Ev'rybody be dancing, dancing

Dancing half the night away

Ev'rybody be dancing

Dancing half the night away Say, you like to have a good time

But you don't want to go no place, cold and old

You're heading for the neon light

To join the crowd shaking from door to door You get me in such a heat

You know, I'm gonna catch that beat if it kills me

But don't you think, it's a crying shame?

That they don't dance like Carmen here no more Ev'rybody be dancing, dancing

Dancing half the night away

Ev'rybody be dancing

Dancing half the night away

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlrics.com/>