She's Sure Taking It Well

Kevin Sharp

We decided to try
Going our own ways for while
And give each other some space
But I never dreamed it would be milesI thought she would cry
While she was packing up
I guess something isn't wrong enoughShe's sure taking it well
Taking my heart and my soul
You'd think I wasn't here
Falling apart, watching her goIf she knows it's killing me
You couldn't look at her and tell
My heart's breaking
And she's sure taking it wellThere go all of my dreams
Melting like sugar in the rain
I would love to believe
She's only smiling through the painAll the tears are mine
Shouldn't she be sad
After losing everything we had?She's sure taking it well
Taking my heart and my soul
You'd think I wasn't here
Falling apart, watching her goIf she knows it's killing me
You couldn't look at her and tell
My heart's breaking and
She's sure taking it wellShe's sure taking it well
Oh, she's sure taking it well
She's sure taking it well
