Rattler's Revival

Toadies

Sometimes I wish, I had the heart of a snake
With no compassion, comes no mistakes
To be a hunter, without fear, without mercy, my vision is clear.

Maybe I'd find, a true religion
Underneath a rock, with no television
With no distractions, only survival
Perhaps I'd witness, a great revival

Shake your tail, shake it like a rattler
Can you feel it, shake it like a rattler
Let me see it, shake it like a rattler
Come on people, we're almost there

Where social graces, are never needed
Your expectations, can be exceeded
Imagine the potential, the possibilities
You're shedding your skin, with your civilities

Brothers and sisters, fellow snakes
Put down posessions, and pull up stakes
I'm awaiting, your arrival
A new beginning, a great revival

(Chorus)
