Different Lives

Ernie Halter

Love, It's not what we thought it'd be
The lives we thought we'd lead are gone and we're alone.
Ohhh woah
Love, it took all our pictures down
Now I'm faced with the empty sound of you not comin' home
Seems like we're better off, we're better off alone.Better off with different lives, better off with different lives,
Its time to move one,
Its nobody's fault,
You know we're better off with different lives
Love, it never got easier
Now I can't breathe, when we're together anymore
Ohhh Woah
Love, thought we could reconcile
Oh but the differences that we hide are that we can; t ignore
It seems that we're better off, we're better off aloneBetter off with different lives
Better off with different lives
Its time to move on,
It's nobody's fault,
You know we're better off with different livesSo I gave you back the key,
Cause I cant unlock this door
And I told you everything
Took our lives up off the floor
Now I'm finally sure
Better off with different lives
Better off with different lives
Time to move on,
It's nobody's fault,
You know we're better off with different lives
