Anyone Can Be Somebody's Fool

Nanci Griffith

You can cuss the daylights
Outta this pale winter moon
We could ponder every reason
Why your true love was untrueYou can cry your eyes out
I've got a shoulder here for you
And everyday your broken heart
Is gonna turn a lighter shade of blue'Cause anyone can be somebody's fool
Oh, look at me, I once was a fool for you
So, you know it's true
Anyone can be somebody's foolOut in this lonely town
There's a lovely silver frost
So, we could stop and have another round
For the true love that you've lostIt's gonna take a little time
Before your emptiness grows old
And underneath that silver frost
You've still got a heart of gold'Cause anyone can be somebody's fool
Oh, look at me, I once was a fool for you
So, you know it's true
Anyone can be somebody's foolHey, when this winter's over
You're gonna walk knee deep in clover
And your heart 'round the corner
And you're gonna feel brand new'Cause anyone can be somebody's fool
Oh, look at me, I once was a fool for you
So, you know it's true
Anyone can be somebody's foolYou know it's true
Anyone can be somebody's fool
You know it's true
Anyone can be somebody's fool
