I'm an Animal

Neko Case

you could say its my instinct yes, I still have one theres no time to second guess it yes there are things that Im still so afraid of but my courage is roaring like the sound of the sun cause its vain about its mane and will reveal them to no one and Im an animal, youre an animal too pick up that rock, drink from that lake I do my best but Im made of mistakes yes, there are still things Im still quite sure of I love you this hour, this hour today and heaven will smell like the airport but I may never get there to prove it so lets not waste our time thinking how that aint fair Im an animal, youre an animal too youre an animal too
