Dark Tranquillity

Like lust has yet to fail me
No power to subside
My instincts never broken
This downfall so close at hand
The thing that scares me most
Is the fear I see in others
And the thing that really
Frightens me to the core
Is when I see that fear in you
Like shields against the action
No enemy to subdue
We barricade forever
The which hides inside of us all
The thing that scares me the most
Is the fear I see in others
The thing that really
Frightens me to the core
Is when I see that fear in you
To break the rules and patterns
When you're scared enough
Before the end is here
Are you scared enough
Are you scared enough
Are you scared enough
The thing that scares me the most
Is the fear I see in others
That look that sends shivers
Down my spine
Will haunt me to the end
Of living days and nights
You're the thing that matters to me most
And I sense this fear in you
