

Stray Light at Clouds Hill

Shearwater

What can I tell you? I wasn't anyone's son
I jumped over mountains
I vaulted the islands
I roared through the houses
I skimmed on the oceans, alone
And see only outlines I was the last king
I was a blaze in the sun I climbed to the cloud base
I rode in the crosswinds
I sleep in the open
I slide through the fences
I hide in the hallways
My armor is frozen
My eyes are a glittering stone
I move in starlight Oh, mama
The light is so bright
The dark is so dark
