Third

Darkane

Reality breaks into your mind
A flash of light cuts through the head
You search for clarity, cannot find
Your mind is dull, your eyes are blindScream for help but no one hears
A dark tornado, distorting ear
Try to escape as you turn around
Nailed by fear, down to the groundFloatingSlowly reaching consciousness
A feeling overwhelming in distress
The focus slowing returns from dead
Realizing creatures face above your headEvil expressions facing through Internal experiments based on you
Paralyzed by cosmic, horror insane
Surrealistic screams of panic, of painFloating through inverted spheresFloating through inverted spheresThe world of hysteric silence
Expanding by abusive violence
Growing red in organic disorder
Apathetic attempts to reach the borderThat will free you from this insanity
A shapeless dimension of humanity
Paralyzed by cosmic, horror insane
Surrealistic screams of panic, of pain
