The Fire Dawn

Oh, Sleeper

Stand up, we'll be more than kings
Show no mercy when the gates swing
I've said it before but without accepting that my body
Was the only thing keeping me from living
I wouldn't even let the surgeon touch me
Though facing death I dined on, I dined on flesh
But now I live to fight outnumbered
At the fire dawn to live in rebellious honor
I'll stand, you'll see me over all of your fallen
I'll be knee deep, knee deep in a sea of their organs
So send me all of hell and I'll face them
I'll face them one on one thousand
We'll face them one on one thousand
Stand up, we'll be more than kings
Show no mercy when the gates swing
Breathe deep the sea at your knees
Breathe deep and show, show no mercy

With blistering heat, the army now bursting through blinds me
With a light not meant to empower but reigned to devour
I'll face them one on one thousand
We'll face them one on one thousand
This kingdom's end is written
So I'll take it one on one thousand
I'll stand, you'll see me over all of your fallen
I'll be knee deep, knee deep in a sea of their organs
So send me all of hell and I'll face them
I'll face them one on one thousand
I'll face them one on one thousand
And yell
Is there no one else? Is there no one else?
Is there no one else left?
Is there no one else? Is there no one else?
Is there no one else left?
