So Much for My Sad Song

Chris Rice

The first thought through my sleepy head
When I fell outta my bed is I hope the sky is gray
I'm gonna write a sad song today
So I make up my mind, slip on my shoes
I'm gonna pick up a paper and read the news
'Cause I'm sure to find enough blues to write my sad songBut when I open the door and the sun spills through Takes away my breath and I think of you
And the only blues to hit my eyes
Are those beautiful blues in the clear blue skySo much for my sad song
So much for my sorry attitude
Let's make this a love song instead
'Cause I'm so in love with youCome on, let's go out and play
Save the sad song for another day
No time for tears, I'm wearing a smile
So much for my sad song
So much for my sad songSo I pick up the news like I said I would Drop my jaw right where I stood
'Cause the headline reads, "All the news is good Because love is on the way"And love floods the world right before my eyes
Everybody is dancing and slapping hi fives
And such beautiful music fills the sky and we all sing along
And now I snap out of my daydream
And I can't believe how real it seemsBut I keep on dancing anyway
It's turning out to be a beautiful daySometimes I measure my day
By how many things go my way
And when things go wrong I usually get mad
But this time I'm glad my song didn't turn out sad

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/