Metaphor

In Flames

Stole my pure intentions You are the sickness in between Let me in, I'll bury the painYou taught me to be sad as you You almost made me take it all Let me in, I'll bury the painBend me and you shake me Make me then you break me Let me in, I'll bury the painYou made me feel like a sinner You fear you'll die alone Let me in, I'll bury the painThe sickness that you are A plague that made me starve Do you think you can show me How I've come this far? The sickness that you are A plague that made me starve Do you think you can show me How I've come this far?I feel it's taking over Everything falls dark Break me open, the desperate cryThe sickness that you are A plague that made me starve Do you think you can show me How I've come this far? The sickness that you are A plague that made me starve Do you think you can show me How I've come this far?
