Clipped Wings

R. Kelly

Sunny days, I promised you
Lifes window pain
With a perfect view
A vow to love, unconditional
Be there for you, all seasonAnd baby I never meant to clip your wings, oh my love
And baby I never meant to clip your wings, oh my love
Baby I never meant to clip your wings, uh baby
Now Im wishing you
You would fly right back to me, yeahI made a vow, to walk with you
Through anything, life puts you through
Told you the world is yours and everything in it
Then you took your heart, for granted
And baby I never meant to clip your wings, never
Baby I never meant to clip your wings, uh baby
Baby I never meant to clip your wings, uh baby
Now Im wishing you
You would fly right back to me, yeahI was your eagle, you were my daffodil
And nothing would come between us, no, no, no
Now the fun and laughter, going to the park
And all the pictures we took
Now its all gone away
