Eighth Wonder

Emily Ulman

I've been thinking about me
Wondering who I am
Trying to be somebody
Wonderin' if I canI look into the mirror
Have this silent fear
There is no one really thereThey say, there are seven wonders of this world
What would the eighth one be?
If I could just love myself
The way, the way that the Lord loves meIf there are seven wonders of this world
What would the eighth one be?I keep building and building
Walls around the truth
But what I'm really needing
Is to find my rest in YouNothing will have meaning
Till I start believing
Just how much I mean to You
How much I mean to YouThey say, there are seven wonders of this world
What would the eighth one be?
If I could just love myself
The way, the way that You love meLord, I feel the wonder in this world
When I understand
Through Your loving eyes, You see
The wonder of who I amLord, I feel the wonder in this world
When I understand
Through Your loving eyes, You see
The wonder of who I am
