

Better Lie

The Get Up Kids

This trespass
My weaker wings couldn't carry much of anything
But my temptress
You take a toll on the vengeance's, oh merciful Defenseless against this tide
It's the coming storm, the counter line
Replace this with just my hands and just my will You'll all be damned One small lie, a test of faith
Just to testify attempted fate
Repentant, a fallen son
The die is cast, thy will be done You got caught in the better lie
You fell off at the fault line into the sun
You got caught in the better lie
You fell off at the fault line No blood spilled upon this ground
A silent night without a sound
But past this we're reading woe
It's another trial You got caught in the better lie
You fell off at the fault line into the sun
You got caught in the better lie
You fell off at the fault line
You got caught in the better lie
You fell off at the fault line
