

Beach House (Les Bons Vivants remix)

Disaster in the Universe

Another clime cries brings out some weird, vivid sights and my antenna try hard to simplify So I run 'til the sea surrounds me And the palms cover... You're so tempered That's why I don't know, I'm in my mind I just intended to make a turn, lost in the sun So I run 'til the sea surrounds me And the palms cover... The sun comes down into the sea
The sun comes down into the sea
The sun comes down into the sea So beach house I guess my brain is nearly frozen in your velvet sky there's a glimpse, a warmer motion The sun comes down into the sea
The sun comes down into the sea
