Welcome Change

Long Distance Calling

something is gone something may end in order for something new to begin these times overwhelming to the eye of your mind the world as we know it leave us behindit's the darkness inside that creates the light
it's the fear in your heart that you have defied
no one can stop the fall
no one can freeze here today
you have to face it
and welcome the change in the clear light of dawn emerging from night as the silence speaks we rise with the tide
the ushering flow to wash it all away the fear falls behind us and hope leads the wayit's the darkness inside
that you have to fight
it's the darkness inside
no one can stare inside
and welcome the flood
