

Far Post (12" Single)

Robert Plant

No talk of love between us
Some things better left unsaid
Talk of the plans move through my head
Through my head No talk of tears and pain
It's been so long
I really don't know your name
It's the rules of the game Wheels keep a turning 'round and 'round
Years keep spinning 'round and 'round
No words assured without a trace like the shadows in the sun
No room for fools who rush, it's all been done You've got new friend in new pools
And you know they're putting troubles to the vote
Tired eyes slow dance in the sunlight
It's all a joke Wheels keep spinning 'round and 'round
Years keep spinning 'round and 'round
With the passing of your time, though you seldom come to mind
I remember the day Sure as winter follows fall
Sure as maybe I will call just remember the day Far off the hazy day, long gone the lingering gray
Chill winds blow cold around the fire's glow
Farewell the call to arms, release the captive heart
Time's keeper clouds the skyline on the last resort Wheels keep spinning 'round and 'round
Years keep spinning 'round and 'round
With the passing of your time, though you seldom come to mind
I remember the day Sure as winter follows fall
Sure as maybe I will call just remember the day

Songwriters

PLANT, ROBERT A/BLUNT, ROBBIE/WOODROFFE, JEZZ Published by

Lyrics © Sony/ATV Music Publishing LLC

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnyrics.com/>