To Worship You

Aaron David

Your infinite wisdom conquers the fear within
While Your relentless love captures my heart again

I just want to worship You, I just want to worship You

Your hand of salvation breaks every last chain of my sin
As this glorious freedom brings strength to my soul again

I just want to worship You, I just want to worship You
I just want to worship You, I just want to worship You

Now every tear that falls adores You
And every breath I breathe will breathe Your name
Itâ€™s here I find my life in who You are

All that I am cries out to worship, to glorify Your name (x4)

Kings will crawl and kingdoms fall in worship
To worship You
The sun and stars and all we are will worship
We worship You
