

Mysterious

Joseph Pfeifer

Mysterious you are
Unstoppable you'll always be
Mystical to some
Medicine for the weak A presence in the stars
A raging bull, a lucky charm
You're hanging on a cross
Now you're hanging on someone else's wall Who do you say he is? Oblivious we are Ignorant we'll always
We tore you from our halls
And tossed you out on the streets Popular to some
An expletive come off my tongue
Reached for in the dark
In some wars you're what's fought for
In some places, you've got many faces Who do you say he is? What's real what's make believe
Not just the things we choose to see
We're in a show, what's your role
Play your part What's truth, what's lies
What's wrong, what's right
What's fact, not fiction
What's concrete evidence
What's conviction, not emotion
Are you sure there's nothin' missin'
Is there a ghost upstairs
Or could there be someone listening What's real what's make believe
Not just the things we choose to see
We're in a show, what's your role
Play your part
'Till your final curtain call

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>