Fighting

Eyeshine

It's not the same without you
I'm not afraid
To go it all alone without you
The places all remain

Everything is shiny now
Like plastic cellophane
Come and take my breath away
Come and take it

You don't say (you don't say)
Anything worth fighting (you don't say) for
(Don't say) Don't say you run away
Don't say you run away
From what we're fighting for

Do you even hear me speak?
Just take a stand

I never had to doubt you
Don't look away
Everyone will stand around you
Begging you to stay

All of this is nothing more
Than selfish aftertaste
Come and take my breath away
Come and take it

You don't say (you don't say)
Anything worth fighting (you don't say) for
(Don't say) Don't say you run away
Don't say you run away
From what we're fighting for

Hope is lost if you don't take a stand
You might as well just hold your breath

Don't say you are

Anything worth fighting for

You don't say (you don't say)
Anything worth fighting (you don't say) for
(Don't say) Don't say you run away
Don't say you run away
From what we're fighting for

Do you even hear me speak?
Just take a stand
