East End Hollows

Braid

Drunkless in punk love, we dream of
Punk rock show and lussy scenes
Dark lust and Dj sex and list of projects
We can never finish, oh no
What makes you, makes me think (do you think?)
Happiness resides in the peek in the bar
And the neighbor who knew we'd reside
Happiness is in the juvy's in the making
In the who knows who knows who what happened
(This is the life)
Another drink, another lifetime of regrets
Another song so we can sing along
Another friend you never call on
Another night to be the garden
But you take these dreams and throw them out the window
Yeah, you take these dreams and throw them out the window
Spinning records and no-one's keeping track
No-one keeps tracks anymore
And no-one remembers anything
So soak it up while you can
I'll tell you how it ends
(she wants)
To be the one who never lets you go x2
To be the one who comes back home to you
To be the one who calls you home
To be the one who keeps your courage on(?)
To be the one who keeps you colder
To be the one who never lets you down (this is the life)
Another drink, another lifetime of regrets
Another song so we can sing along
Another friend you never call on
Another night to be the garden
But you take these dreams and throw them out the window
Yeah, you take these dreams and throw them out the window
Yeah, you take these dreams and throw them out the window
Yeah, you take these dreams and throw them out the window
(I want)
To be the one who never lets you go x2
To be the one who comes back home to you

To be the one who calls you home
(Sick devil)
