

Stars

Elliot Matsu

Another day turns to nightfall
Another twenty-four hours now for you to build a wall
Between you and me
Every brick laid carefully
I know that you're a complicated woman but now it's gettin' to me
You know I love you although I'm not sure how to proceed
I'm pretty sure it ain't by sittin' on my couch and smokin' weed
So let me into your heart now and tell me what you need
If it's a Volvo and a big back yard that seems reasonable to me

Because
There's stars up in heaven and there's stars in your eyes
Rock stars and movie stars, but you're the only star that I want in my life
In my life

Sometimes it gets so hard but I put that out of my mind
I know that I can get through to you if I give it enough time
It's stronger than words now, it's stronger than fate
It's every single one of my energies focused on you loving me

Because
There's stars up in heaven and there's stars in your eyes
Rock stars and movie stars but you're the only star I want in my life
There's stars up in heaven and there's stars in your eyes
Rock stars and movie stars
But you're the only star that I want in my life

Do you know how long I've been waiting?
Do you know how long I've been waiting?

You know I'll stop smoking cigarettes
I'll remove my tattoos
I'll get a regular haircut and take my earrings out for you
'Cause I've waited for lifetimes, but one thing stays the same
Atoms exchange, they rearrange, but I can't change the way I feel about you
About you

Because
There's stars up in heaven and there's stars in your eyes
Rock stars and movie stars but you're the only star that I want

There's stars up in heaven and there's stars in your eyes
Rock stars and movie stars but you're the only star that I want in my life

Lyrics submitted by tkazzi.

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnllyrics.com/>