

Living in Sin

The Living End

Not one for violence
Not one to steal
Not one to break the law
Or make a dealCos innocence has left me long ago
My heart has now forgotten how to loveI became blinded by my goddamned life
I couldn't see or hear or tell wrong from right
Cos yesterday is just a memory
I close my eyes then it's goneSo how will I know (how will I know)
When the war is over
How will I know (how will I know)
When it doesn't matter
What I've done or where I've been
So till that day I'm living in sinI've seen it once
I've seen it twice
Won't happen again
Not in this lifeCos yesterday is just a memory
I close my eyes then it's goneSo how will I know (how will I know)
When the war is over
How will I know (how will I know)
When it doesn't matter
What I've done or where I've been
So, till that day
Till that day
Till that day
I'm living in sinHow will I know
When the war is over
Tell me, how will I know
When it doesn't matterWhere I've been Where I've been
Where I've beenNot one for violence
Not one to steal
Not one to break the law
Or make a dealCos innocence has left me long ago
My heart has now forgotten how to loveSo how will I know (how will I know)
When the war is over
How will I know (how will I know)
When it doesn't matter
What I've done or where I've been
So, till that day

Till that day
Till that day
I'm living in sin

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnllyrics.com/>