

Coconut Crab

TTNG

just simply paraphrase
all that you're feeling into tiny bit sized bits squeeze them tight so they might fit over melodies
these little phrases come along it's not that hard you'd be fine if you'd just startcome on get on with it it's not that easy you must admit when the words you choose never fit make do with merely adequate now you've tried but they won't wall out your mindi'm tired of all you excuses force yourself it's worth the fight it's not as though your hands are tied option paralysis stole you time if you don't decide you'll fall behindcome on get on with it it's not that easy you must admit
make do with merely adequatenow you've tried but they won't fall out your mind do you realise this is bigger than you words likely have less merit than the timbre of their sound so sing anything you feel like and don't let it get you down
