

The Role of the Hero In Antiquity

Commander Venus

I fell asleep today
It rained all afternoon
The apartment felt too small
I take up to much room
The night has worn away
But she hasn't disappeared
I wanted to say goodbye
But the lonely gray of privacy abounds
Like the kings of ancient times
The light has struck, opened our eyes
And what we saw
The glory of our life unfolds before us
At the edge of all our dreams
Nothing is the way it seems, we used to be
As history wipes clean the slate that sits
In our eyes, in our eyes
I fell asleep today
It rained all afternoon
The apartment felt too small
I take up to much room
The night has worn away
But she hasn't disappeared
I want to say, I want to say
I want to say goodbye
And you, you'll always be my friend
(I fell asleep today, it rained all afternoon)
I never wanted this to end and now it has (The apartment felt too small, I take up to much room)
(The night has worn away but she hasn't disappeared)
Forgetfulness will dry the tears that fall
From our eyes
(I want to say, I want to say, I want to say goodbye)
From our eyes, from our eyes
