Worried About

Lissie

i'm too worried 'bout what you're doing are you worried 'bout what im doing too what ya doin' to me why cant you see im too worried 'bout what your doing
are you worried 'bout what im doing too what ya doing to me wanna be freeand who could blame you i made it so complicated if i just drain you
'til working it out
is overated but why are we so blind to see that truth and love they could overcome, come, come, come...im to worried 'bout what your doing you're not worried 'bout what im doin' too what you're doing to me wanna be free im to worried 'bout what you're doin' doin' no you're not worried about what i'm doing too
what you're doing to me why can't you seethat i can't change you nor was that my intention please explain your ernest words are just shucking and jiving you like to see your thumb on me just checking in to make it begin again, 'gain, 'gain and againand for the last four years of my life i've thought about you pretty much every fifteen seconds x2and for the last four years of my life i've thought about you what your thinking, what your reckon'and for the last four years of my life
i've thought about you
pretty much every fifteen secondslast four years of my life x3 pretty much every fifteen secondsbridge: oh my heart, my heart's gonna break again oh my god, my god won't forsake again oh mercy i want to be taken in oh mercy x2i'm to worried about what you're doing your're not worried about what i'm doing too

what you're doing to me honey why can't you see i'll stop worrying about what you're doin' doin'
'cause you're not worried about what i'm doing too and then you will see what it was like to be mebridge x2

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/