

Love

Shania Twain

Time goes by, I know That I'm learnin' Love, It lies and No wonder I'm hurtin'
I can see the lies all over your face only hope that time can help erase The pain, the tears that i'm cryin'
I can see in your eyes your love is dyin'
I should've know that you lied when you said to believe That you'd love me enough that you'd never leave.
But you just turned and walked away, You left me standing in the rain you didn't take my love for real, Now how am I to feel

Love comes in and goes out Like a season
You came in and walked out For no reason
Do you really know what love is about?
You really had me thinkin' there wasn't a doubt That you would love me forever
you wanted me to know that i had to love you now or never but then you let me go
"hmmm hmmm...ohhh ohhh"
