Did You Really

Crossfade

Tell me all your problems, I'll save your soul
It could make you feel better, you never really know
Don't give up on tomorrow, save your scene
It may not get any better, livin' isn't freeOffer up solutions, do what you wanna do
Remove all of the people who tell you lies
About what you're goin' throughDid you really wanna die? This question now keeps repeatin' in my mind
A shot heard in the night, an unheard cry, a fatal fight
Did you really wanna die? What did you hope to find?
Do you want to find the answers somewhere floatin' in the night?
Did you really wanna die?Tell me I'm forgiven, save my soul
One thing I've regretted, I'll never really know
Value what's been given to you and me
How many times we said it, livin' isn't freeOffer up solutions, do what you wanna do
Remove all of the people who tell you lies
About what you're goin' throughDid you really wanna die? This question now keeps repeatin' in my mind
A shot heard in the night, an unheard cry, a fatal fight
Did you really wanna die? What did you hope to find?
Do you want to find the answers somewhere floatin' in the night?
Did you really wanna die?Don't think you can make it, I can understand
A phone call far away to lend a helpin' hand
Don't think I can make it, give it one more try
Don't think I can take itCan't believe you'd really wanna die, I'd help you give it one more try
Did you really wanna die? I'd help you give it one more try
I know you didn't wanna die from words that you would write
Now they're the only thing that helps me make it through the night
I know you didn't wanna die
