Falling Fast

Eyes Set To Kill

Is it safe to say
You made a mistake
In the perfect way
In the perfect way
Cross your fingers now
If you choose that lane
You'll lose yourself.
My friend, this is my testament
If only you know
I raise my glass this time
In victory.
It's not like we didn't tell you
Face it now, face the truth
We've all got our own problems
Face it now, face the truth.
Can you, can you hear me?
Is it safe to say
You made a mistake
In the perfect way
In the perfect way
Cross your fingers now
(Cross your fingers now)
If you choose that lane
You'll lose yourself.
Who's gonna catch you when there is no one left?
You're falling fast.
Why change,
Like we can try to beat
The words that you drew
If you only knew
Re-shaping value
Are you better than the best
Nothing to confess

But all your perfections
Better take a step in another direction
My friend, this is the truth.
So was it worth it?
Is it safe to say

You made a mistake
In the perfect way
In the perfect way
Cross your fingers now
(Cross your fingers now)
If you choose that lane
You'll lose yourself.
Who's gonna catch you when there is no one left?
You're falling fast.
You threw your life away
And all this time
It never meant a thing
If you say it you mean it
If you say it you better really mean it.
You'll never know, never know what you have Until it ends you're falling, falling fast.
Who's gonna catch you when there is no one left?
Is it safe to say
You made a mistake
In the perfect way
In the perfect way
Cross your fingers now
(Cross your fingers now)
If you choose that lane
You'll lose yourself.
Who's gonna catch you when there is no one left?
You're falling fast
Who's gonna catch you when there is no one left?
You're falling fast.
