

Comin' Down

The View

I'm comin', comin' down
It's took so long for me to come around
They tell you, it smashes brain
Drain you of all the blood you've left in your brain

If you spare me a brew and a double bed
You might give me the time to clear my head tonight
With these stones you cast so fast
It makes me think, we will never last

I hear it, do you hear that sound?
Hear that now aloud, it's comin' down
I'm not eager to be mean
I'm eager to be anyone I want to be

If you spare me a brew and a double bed
You might give me the time to clear my head tonight
With these stones you cast so fast
It makes me think, we will never last

If you spare me a brew and a double bed
You might give me the time to clear my head tonight
With these stones you cast so fast
It makes me think, we will never last

'Comin down, I'm comin' down (x2)

Comin' doooooown, I'm comin' down

Spare me a brew and a double bed
You might give me the time to clear my head tonight
