

Anatomized

Haemorrhage

Surgical dissection
On nameless remains
Weird tools cut asunder
Exposed insides The nauseating stench
In the morgue
Is unbearable Ice cold cadavers
Spill their guts
On the table Incised epigastrium
Ejecting curdled fluids
Extirpate the appendix
As gall-bladder erupts Jiggaws amputate
Their rigid limbs
Drilling their wrists Putrid anatomy is clinically spoiled
by pathologists Medical recipients
Full of bodily slugs
Pieces of the corpses
Rest in plastic bags
