Weight

Dry Kill Logic

And I pray salvation leaves you here again
And if I swear for you, I've seen the end
I bear this weight for you and now if seems to meEvery time that I try to give you peace of mind
You go and question why
Some things you just should know, that it was yours to show
It's like I feel this way because I'm wanted to and I pray forWeight all of the weight
Can't stand the weight
Crushing, pushing down on me
You can't seem to see what's left in meAnd now I I bear this weight for you, the pressure grates on me
Yet I am loathe to find some sort of middle ground
To work at compromise, you'll never understand
What all this does to to me, I'm keeping you alive and yet it's killing me
And I pray salvation leaves you here again
And if I swear for you, I've seen the endWeight all of the weight
Can't stand the weight
Crushing, pushing down on me
You can't seem to see what's left in meAnd now I never, I won't, compromise it
I won't take for granted, I won't, give up on it l won't idolize it, I must keep my focus
I must sacrifice us, I must never let go, I must not fall
