

Slow Dancer

Robert Plant

Slow, slow dancer, ooh, no hands for you
New moves to see
Oh, fast talker in dark [Incomprehensible] , for you
New words to hear Oh, sly glances I half chance for you
The eye that sees And the sun slips from the day
And the coolness brings relief
There's no torment 'neath the stars
In the stillness of the night When the swirling has to cease
Behind the safety of the veil
Ooh, yeah Now, in high places, darkened faces
So indifferent, in days to be Oh, lost race, no loser, only winners
Return to see
New order can't be altered when the eyes
Refuse to see And the sun slips the day
And the coolness brings relief
There's no torment 'neath the stars
In the stillness of the night When the swirling has to cease
Behind the safety of the veil Ah, ah, ah Now, now, now, now
Soft, soft spoken, never could be broken, awaiting
The dawn light with me
Slow burning, school of learning, [Incomprehensible]
Builds down on me Hearts leaping, hopes been reaching
To the heights, to the heights
These signs to see Oh, baby
I should say now, baby, baby, baby
In the darkness
Oh, Lord, so good
Oh, Lord, so fine In the darkness, in the darkness
Yes, yes, yes, yes
(Ah, ah, ah, ah)
Don't you wanna go?
(Ah, ah, ah, ah) No, no, no, no, no
Don't you wanna go?
Don't you wanna go?
(Ah, ah, ah, ah) Feels good, oh, yes
Please, please, please
So good, so good, so good, my baby
