

Believe

Control Denied

Do you believe what some might say
Can't be could be reality
Let seven be the one for me, six chapters
Of life laced with mystery Awaiting discovery Immune you become
A war to be won
The soul of a voice
Let the voice of the soul be free For most it does not come easily
For some it comes with pain
From a thought to a living sight
For some it's a life, for some a game There are things in life worth fighting for
And some things are better off, let go
A dream secured long ago or yesterday
Close to the top, there's no looking down When you believe
When you believe
If you believe
You must believe If I was paid for disappointments
I would be a wealthy man
The magic lives in sincerity, in truth
Behind the thoughts I choose to stand Awaiting discovery Immune you become
A war to be won
The soul of a voice
Let the voice of the soul be free For most it does not come easily
For some it comes with pain
From a thought to a living sight
For some it's a life, for some a game There are things in life worth fighting for
And some things are better off, let go
A dream secured long ago or yesterday
Close to the top, there's no looking down When you believe
You must believe
