

Too Close

Yuna

Fighting this feeling like a war
And I'm too proud to fall
I'm building myself a wall
From this love that I can't ignore
This heartbeat tricking me into
Wanting to come close to you
But I can't afford getting hurt again
So I'm just gonna take a step back
Please don't stand too close to me
Please don't stand too close to me
You know it's not hard to see
Boy, you stole my heart from me But you gave me a change of view
Never met anyone like you
And you know that I feel it, too
But I'm just scared of something new
This heartbeat tricking me into
Wanting to fall in love with you
And I can't find a reason to walk away
And you keep finding reasons to stay
Please don't stand too close to me
Please don't stand too close to me
You know it's not hard to see
Boy, you stole my heart from me Even though I don't say anything to you
I think by now that you should know
Even though you don't say anything
That's obvious that this isn't new, love
You're tricking me into wanting to come close to you
And I can't afford getting hurt again
So I'm just gonna take a step back
Please don't stand too close to me
Please don't stand too close to me
You know it's not hard to see
Boy, you stole my heart from me Let this heartbeat lead you
