Nothing Feels the Same

Marissa Nadler

I am alive, I can't see you
With the clouds of dust and the dim light of the muted moon
Lying on the ground
Where our house used to be
The birds are walking round
Codes washing over meNothing feels the same
Nothing feels the same
Nothing feels the same
I don't know where we are
I don't know my own name
I remember loving you
I recall the times
How we passed the winters
Watching as the snow climbed
Lying on the ground
Where our town used to be
Some strange particle
Floats by my peripheryNothing feels the same
Nothing feels the same
Nothing feels the same
I don't know where we are
I don't know my own nameI have the light, I have the light
And I saw you, in the next
We were cosmos in the afterlife
I have the light, I have the light
And I saw you, in the next
We were cosmos in the afterlife
Nothing feels the same
Nothing feels the same
Nothing feels the same
I don't know where we are
I don't know my own name
