

The Raven Song

Virgin Steele

Soaring high above the desert
Far beyond the shifting plains I call your name
With a love that goes beyond love
Past the prison of all time in the sky you and I
From the dawn of all creation
To the pain of nevermore
Can you hear me in your slumber
As I haunt the nightly shore
Unleash the raven fly to me
Unleash the raven fly to me
In the Palace of the Spirits
Where the streets are still and strange, I stand alone 13 moons reveal the sadness
Where your mortal body drained
In the sky you and I, we can't die
From the dawn of all creation
Calling from the other side
None can ever tear asunder
Our love is sanctified
Unleash the raven fly to me
Unleash the raven fly to me
Fly Phantom of Night
Vulture Divine send me Lenore
From the dawn of all creation
Calling from the other side
None can ever tear asunder
Our love is sanctified
Unleash the Raven fly to me
Unleash the Raven fly to me
When the Light of Life is over
Calling from the other side
Unleash the Raven fly to me
Unleash the Raven fly to me
