

Who Rides the Tiger

Black Star Riders

All you need is Jesus and a '44
A contradiction in faith and a sprung dance floor
The pulse of a nation at war with it's own
Tonight we're gonna party like it's 1791 If you won't take my silver
Then you must take my lead
All you need is love now
And the goddam second amendment Sleep with the enemy
Feral as you wanna be
Cowboys and indians
Say hello to my little friend
Who rides the tiger
(He's afraid to fall off)
You're the best girl that I ever did see
Dissolving into darkness, fade into misery
I have the right to broken arms as I beat on my chest
Stare at my reflection pull the trigger myself If you won't take my silver
Then you must take my lead
All you need is love now
And the goddam second amendment Sleep with the enemy
Feral as you wanna be
Cowboys and indians
Say hello to my little friend
Who rides the tiger
(He's afraid to fall off) Who rides the tiger
(He's afraid to fall off)
Who rides the tiger
(He's afraid to fall off) Who rides the tiger
(He's afraid to fall off) Who rides the tiger
(He's afraid to fall off) Who rides the tiger
(He's afraid to fall off) Who rides the tiger
(He's afraid to fall off) Who rides the tiger
(He's afraid to fall off)
