Begin Again

Dispatch

Night after night with the sound and the light
That comes from down below
The street sweepers clean St Augustine
And tired they head for homeYou can begin again
Honey you can begin againHolding it all with her hat and her shawl
She sways in the hall above
Combing the room for a piece of the moon
She braces against the wallNight after night with the sound and the light
She sings and whispers please
Day after day he lies in the way
Of his life that was meant to be
You can begin again
Honey you can begin again
You can begin again
Honey you can begin againShe breaks into his dreams
And finds his colors on the floor
Says don't you disappear
Stay awake my dearYou can begin again
Honey you can begin again
You can begin again
Honey you can begin againYou can begin again
Honey you can begin again
You can begin again
Honey you can begin again
You can begin again
Honey you can begin again
You can begin again
Honey you can begin again
