

Postpartum Evisceration

Aversion to Life

Macerated by hate, spreads like disease that is all consuming
My only thought is to kill, my family- my children- my infant- myself
Possessed by an evil in me - I start the slaughter with my screaming baby
Stifle her cries with my axe, the final lullaby the sound of her death

Realizing what I have done â€“ continuing my campaign of blood
Murder my entire family - consumed with morbid insanity
Hearing screams of their horrific death

Scolding life away - Their souls I redeem, I must baptized them in pain
Killing one by one â€“ struggling, submerged, I drown my toddler son Heat and steam I breathe â€“ The adrenalin and sweat, I can barely fucking see Leaving his corpse at the â€“ bottom of the tub, flesh bloating

Indecency â€“the dead bodies â€“they multiply
They will finally be at peace â€“ unbearable suffering â€“ condemned to burn in hell for eternity

Iâ€™m not done â€“ I still hear crying - defilement of gods creations, bleed.
Transgression â€“ this state of being â€“ disillusion all but devours me
Visions of â€“ my destiny â€“ my holy quests to bond, torture, kill all I see
Transgression â€“ this state of being â€“ disillusion all but devours me

Scorching after life â€“ there is no hiding â€“ you realize what gods plan has in store for Hunting kids as prey â€“ for they must suffocate â€“ in water and in pain, inundation
Dispelling all their sins â€“ I begin to pray -as their lives slip away - parturition
Bathroom filled with dead â€“ bodies of those I loved â€“ what have I become, abomination

Execrations â€“ slitting my throat in agony â€“ depravation â€“ of blood and life, of god and light
Incantations- blasphemous curse Iâ€™m vomiting â€“ slipping away â€“ descending to voids of darkness
Perverse â€“ Enlightened â€“ Condemned â€“ I leave my body.
