If Only as a Ghost

Jonas Alaska

Could you please come back to me
If only as a ghost
I might not be alone in grief,
But I need you most
You're not just my older brother
You're my best friend
I never got to tell you that
So please come back againMy sweet wife is sleeping now
And so is my new-born son
I wish you could be with me
As my life just begun
You should see him lying there
He looks just like me
But I sure hope that it is you
That he grows up to beThe day you died
I thought that I was gonna die as well
Everything was shaking
And my life turned to hell
I'm telling you I'm happy that a son was born to me
'Cause sometimes I can't bear the thought
That you're not here to seeMomma, pops, the rest of the bunch
And all our good friends too
We're riding on a swimming horse
And we still talk of you
But in the nights when I'm alone
I think about before
When I was throwing magazines
At you - because you snored
