

Interference

Thom Yorke

We stare into each other's eyes
Like jackdaws, like ravens
The ground may open up and swallow us
In an instant
An instant But I don't have the right
To interfere
To interfere
I don't have the right
To interfere
To interfere In the future, we will change our numbers
And lose contact
In the future, leaves will turn brown
When we want them Ooh
Ooh
And I don't have the right
To interfere
To interfere
I don't have the right
To interfere
To interfere
I don't have the right
To interfere
To interfere
